
Part B: Information for employers

Making contributions to VicSuper

Your employee has chosen to have their super paid into VicSuper FutureSaver. VicSuper is a complying super fund that can accept superannuation contributions.

The letter on the following page issued by VicSuper Pty Ltd, the corporate trustee of VicSuper Fund, confirms the Fund is a complying super fund.

Becoming a VicSuper participating employer

There is no cost to become a VicSuper participating employer. Your employee may then be registered with an EmployeeSaver account and you will have full access to all VicSuper's employer services including VicSuper EmployersOnline. VicSuper does not impose any additional requirements on its participating employers outside of what you are required to do in order to meet legislative superannuation obligations. For example, we do not require our participating employers to make monthly contributions to the Fund.

It is important to note that you do not have to become a participating employer to pay superannuation guarantee for your employees. Your employee can join VicSuper themselves as a PersonalSaver member and you can contribute to that account. However, non-participating employers do not have access to VicSuper EmployersOnline.

To join VicSuper as a participating employer, visit vicsuper.com.au/employer or call 1300 878 737.

How to make payments

VicSuper accepts contributions from third party clearing houses. Participating employers can contribute directly to VicSuper through our Employers Online portal.

Please contact your VicSuper account consultant on 1300 878 737 if you would like more information about making payments.
